THE TRUDEAU SANATORIUM AND
THE EDWARD L. TRUDEAU FOUNDATION

THE TRUDEAU SANATORIUM was founded in 1884 by the late Dr. Edward L. Trudeau to help self-supporting people suffering from tuberculosis.

The institution was definitely intended for those who could pay only part of the cost. The deficit in maintenance is and always has been made up by annual gifts from the public and income from endowment funds. The charges to patients average three-quarters of the cost, but from fifteen to twenty percent receive further assistance from the Free Bed Funds. Additional endowment for the general maintenance and for the Free Bed Funds is greatly needed and legacies are desired to strengthen the now enlarged institution.

The following brief summary sets forth the objects and departments of the institution as now carried on:

1. The Trudeau Sanatorium is for the treatment of favorable types of pulmonary tuberculosis and for patients of limited means. The full capacity is 200 beds.

2. The Edward L. Trudeau Foundation is an endowment fund in memory of Dr. Trudeau, established in 1916, for the support of research and teaching in tuberculosis. The fund is devoted to the following purposes:

a. The Trudeau School of Tuberculosis for the instruction of physicians, gives a four and six weeks' post-graduate course covering the modern diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis.

b. A system of Fellowships for study and research in the Sanatorium and laboratories, which provide support for young physicians and scientists while undergoing treatment.

c. The Research and Clinical Laboratory, located at the Sanatorium, containing facilities for the study of bacteriology, chemistry and pathology. The same building houses the Lawrason Brown Memorial Medical Library. The Physiological Laboratory occupies the basement of the Recreation Pavilion.

d. A department for Statistics and for recording the annual reports of patients.

e. The Saranac Laboratory for the Study of Tuberculosis, in the village of Saranac Lake, which was formerly the private research laboratory of Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau and is now the headquarters of the Trudeau School and of pathological study and research.

Annexed to the Saranac Laboratory is the John Black Room and medical library, which serves the Trudeau School and Fellows as well as the village physicians as a lecture room.

THE REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

THE YEAR 1946 was memorable in the history of Trudeau and found the Sanatorium standing at the cross-roads. One of the great opportunities of the century has opened before us, in the study of factors which have already led to a definite advance in the treatment of tuberculosis and which may open other avenues to the conquest of this great destroyer of youth. At the same time our institution, at the end of its year and through no fault of its officers or management, faced the gravest deficit in its history, one which will require prodigious effort to overcome.

There is, first, the new era of hope ushered in by the discovery of such substances as streptomycin, on which much work has been done and progress made in our own laboratories. In itself of limited value in the treatment of tuberculosis, streptomycin has nevertheless indicated a direction of research which may well lead to the step by step development of increasingly effective substances. The time has come therefore to press the attack as never before on the tuberculosis problem. This can be done most effectively in a place like Trudeau, where care of the sick, teaching, and laboratory experimentations are conducted as an integrated undertaking.

In order to state our needs and difficulties, I can do no better than quote from one of the pamphlets used in our fund raising campaign: "At the very time, however, when Trudeau has an opportunity to make what may well be its greatest contribution to the conquest of tuberculosis, it faces a grave emergency. This emergency was born of the war and the rising costs which have followed. For a number of years the Sanatorium has been able to balance its budget only by living on the loyalty of those who work for it and through deferring needed renovations in plant and equipment. It has been unable to make adequate replacement of personnel lost through war service and death. It has come to a point where it has had to ask patients to help with the housework because it lacked funds to retain a sufficient staff of employees. We must repair the serious depletion of our staff, increase salaries and wages, and make adequate provisions for retirement if the Sanatorium is to maintain its distinctive value to mankind. We also require additional funds for teaching and research. Patient fees have been increased, but because Trudeau serves patients who cannot pay the full cost of care, it must turn primarily to generous friends for the funds so sorely needed." A statement of our needs is found on the inside front cover page.

In another field Trudeau suffered two shocking losses in 1946. The death of Dr. Fred H. Heise in June and Dr. LeRoy U. Gardner in October struck at the very top of our medical service and research departments. Dr. Heise had given thirty-four years of faithful and competent service to Trudeau and for fifteen years had been chief of the clinical work either as Medical Director or Chairman of the Medical Board. He was known and honored in medical circles throughout the country. Dr. Gardner, as Director of the Saranac Laboratory and, since 1938, Director of the Trudeau School and Foundation, was a brilliant and distinguished investigator in the field of tuberculosis and allied diseases of the chest, and was internationally famous for his studies of industrial diseases.

Fortunately, the Trustees were able to secure Dr. Edward N. Packard to replace Dr. Heise as Medical Director. Coming from Halloran Hospital where he was executive officer during the war, and widely known as a tuberculosis specialist, author and investigator, Dr. Packard brings to the Sanatorium high capabilities as an administrator who understands all the phases of our medical and research problems. On the death of Dr. Gardner, Dr. Packard was also given charge of the Trudeau Foundation and Trudeau School of Tuberculosis. We are fortunate indeed to have at the head of our work a physician of such outstanding ability.

In spite of severe losses in personnel and financial departments we look forward with confidence to the response of Trudeau Sanatorium's hundreds of friends and believe that they will make it possible for the institution to meet its high responsibilities as a leader in the field of tuberculosis. The medical and scientific future is assured if only financial support with which to carry on is forthcoming.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE
CHAIRMAN OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
OF THE
TRUDEAU SANATORIUM
FOR THE YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1946

THE sixty-second year of the Sanatorium has brought us a further loss of serious nature in the death of our faithful Medical Director, Dr. Fred H. Heise, from cancer on June 8, 1946. The disease made rapid progress and death followed a surgical operation after a few weeks.

Dr. Heise was held in universal esteem and tributes have been numerous by patients and staff, including a Memorial Free Bed Fund initiated by Mr. Albert Schulman. The loss of such an experienced head has added to our difficulties of retaining capable medical men. Fortunately we were able to secure Dr. Edward N. Packard, formerly an assistant on the medical staff and later an associate of the late Dr. Lawrason Brown in private practice in the Village. In the interim Dr. Spencer Schwartz, First Assistant under Dr. Heise, acted very ably as the chief.

Dr. Packard for a short time had been Assistant Director of the Trudeau Foundation, until he entered the Army. Throughout the war he was distinguished as chief of the Medical Divisions of Dix and Halloran Hospitals and received the rank of Colonel. He did not remain in the Army after the war but became a consultant on tuberculosis in the Veterans Administration. He will now be in full charge of all medical affairs at Trudeau and will select assistants who are well grounded in general medicine as well as in tuberculosis.

The deaths of three other old friends of Dr. Trudeau and contributors to the Sanatorium are to be reported with regret: Miss Blanche H. Riddle, daughter of Daniel W. Riddle, the first Treasurer of the Sanatorium; Miss Helen O. P. Stokes; and Mrs. Walter B. James, donor of the James Memorial Staff Building.

The past year has not witnessed the large daily census which prevailed in 1945. It fell to 184.1 as compared with 210.3, the maximum for all time. Several factors served to limit the number, chiefly the discontinuance of "doubling" two patients in a room in the winter months. Another factor was the shorter stay of many patients, partly due to the increase from $17 to $20 weekly in the rate, decided upon last spring to meet the mounting cost of food and wages. The raise in rates seemed necessary.

In consideration of the fact that salaries at Trudeau have been conspicuously low, below those in surrounding institutions, we have had increasing difficulties in holding employees and obtaining new ones, especially nurses.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION

The Superintendent's report sets forth the increased cost of maintenance and the reasons for a substantial deficit despite contributions. The per capita cost per week increased from $28.16 in 1945 to $33.29 in 1946.

Balance September 30, 1946 ----- 44.48

There were forty beneficiaries, and a very gratifying number of contributions from patients and former patients. Thus far there have been few applicants for aid who gave the higher rates as the reason for their need.

However, the waiting list has been reduced to the point where there is little delay in admission except to the infirmary beds.

Employed Ex-patients: Sixty-four former patients earned $39,136.48, besides 145 convalescent and guest volunteers who assisted in the dining room, laundry, etc., and who earned $663.21 at the rate of fifty cents an hour.

The Trudeau Foundation employed 34 former patients, most of them full-time workers, who earned approximately $46,300.00.

Construction and Improvements: The chief improvements have been alterations in the James Memorial Staff Building to provide three apartments for married physicians, at a cost of ----- $1,268.45
Furnishings, including two refrigerators ----- 783.42

2,051.87

Women's Auxiliary: With the help of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Trudeau has been able to carry out very much needed improvements. Furnishings were purchased for the Mallinson Cottage and Liberty Camp, besides the Ludington Infirmary and the Main Building. These have added much to the comfort of the patients. The financial report follows:

The average daily census was 184.1. Many further details are contained in the Medical Director's report.

Statistical Department was carried on by Miss Madeline Lansdowne until her untimely death and since has been taken over by Mrs. Anna Mary Carr.

Dental Department: We were fortunate in securing Dr. Edward F. Mulflur, of the Village of Saranac Lake, as dentist when he was discharged from the Army. He devotes his mornings to the Sanatorium, and also has an office in the Village.

THE DEPARTMENTS

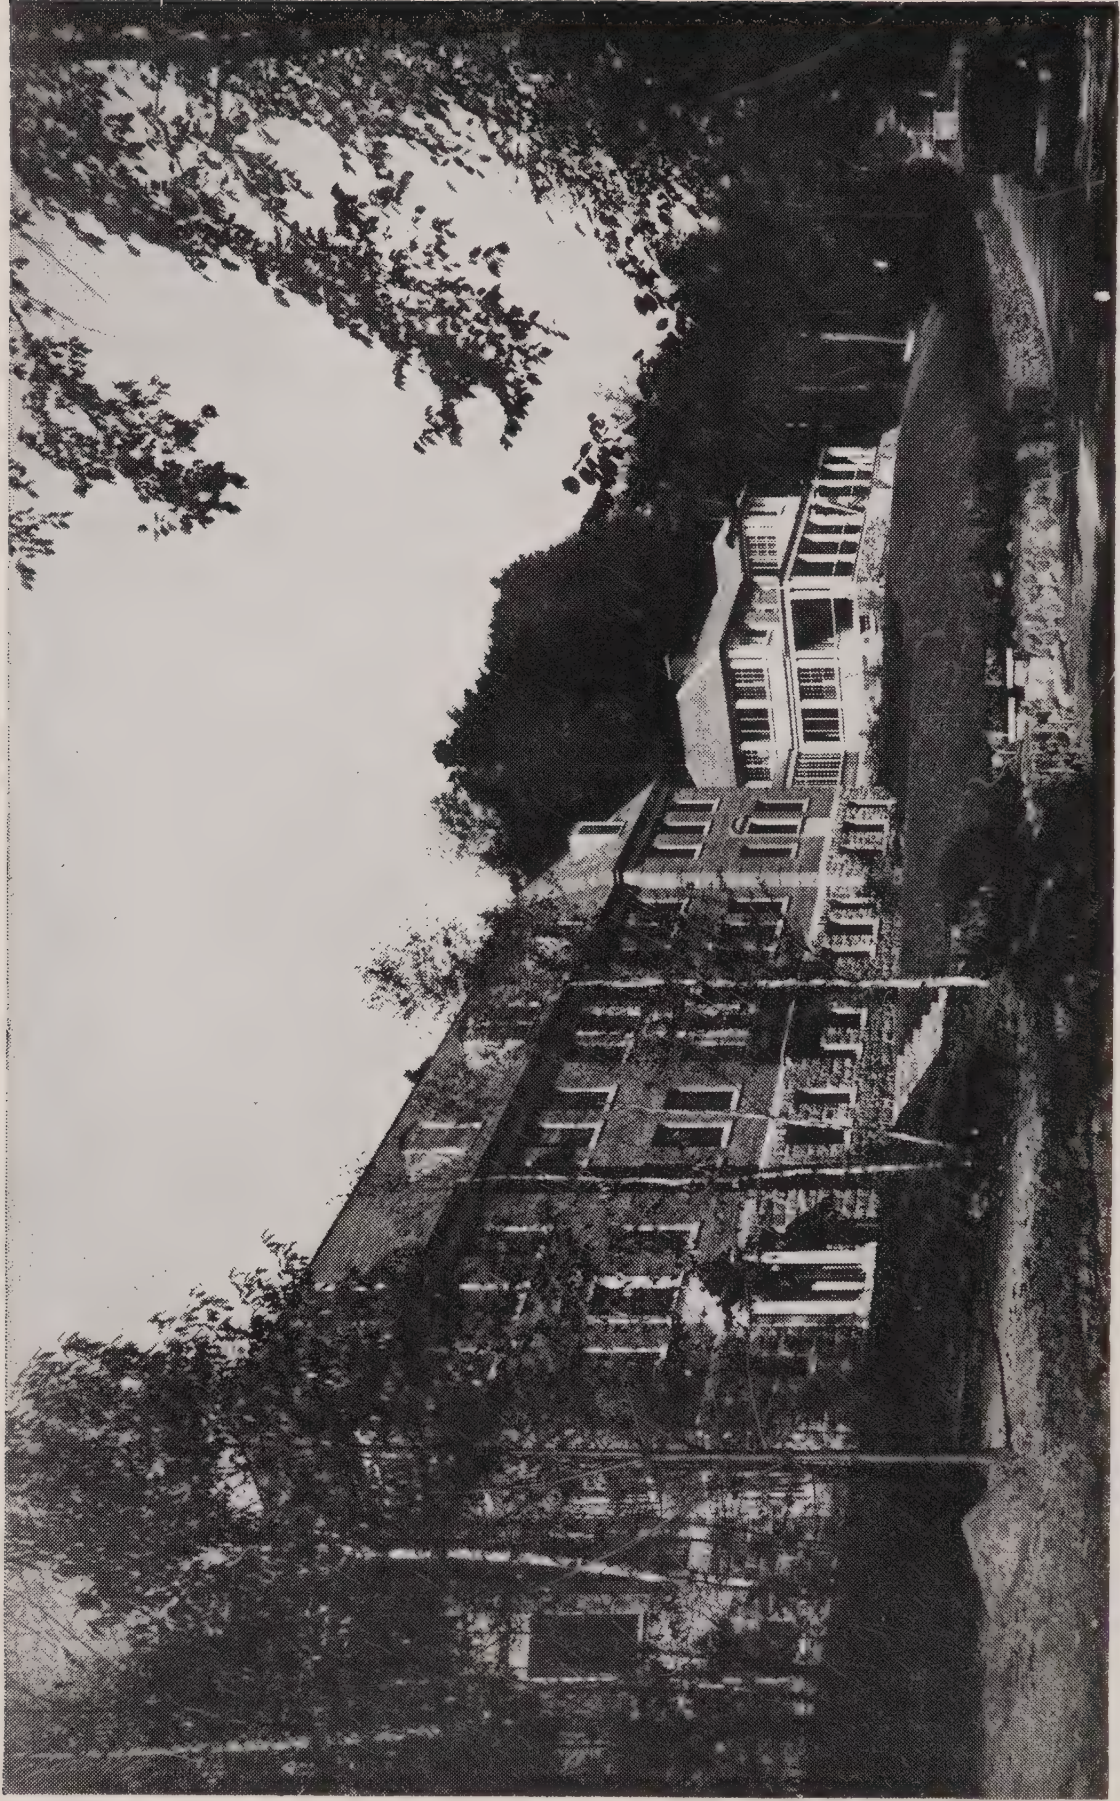

Administration: We owe much to the untiring efforts of Mr. Wood and Miss Duggan who have met the problem of carrying on the details of management with courage and self-sacrifice. With the aid of convalescent patients the most annoying problem of dining room service has been met, but there is still much need of domestic help unfilled.

Medical Staff: The death of Dr. Heise was a crippling blow to the medical service. Dr. Schwartz, the First Assistant, became Acting Director in the interim before the appointment of Dr. Packard and served with tact and ability. He has left us to take an important position with the Veterans Administration tuberculosis hospital at Brecksville, near Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. J. B. O'Connor took his place as First Assistant and Dr. Harold Sandhaus became Second Assistant, replacing Dr. H. F. Parry who left to assist Dr. Hayes in practice in the Village. Drs. C. M. Landmesser and Orrin Levin, interns, left for other positions and were succeeded by the following: Drs. Stephen Andrus, K. R. Dehlinger and Dr. Elsie McPeak. Dr. E. O. Coates returned to the staff in July and Dr. Philip Pratt was appointed an intern in June. Under Dr. Packard it is anticipated that the rapid turnover of medical personnel will lessen.

D. Ogden Mills School of Nursing: Miss Mann, the Superintendent, reports that the shortage of general duty nurses continues and she has been unable to replace those who have left. At the summer meeting of the Trustees it was shown that the salaries paid by Trudeau were materially lower than in other institutions, both public and private. It was therefore voted to increase salaries to a scale sufficient to attract applicants, yet not to match the highest paid elsewhere.

The number of affiliating students in each class has decreased during the past year due to the fewer students entering the training schools. Thus the hospitals are unable to spare them for affiliated courses. Efforts to add to our list of hospitals for affiliation are being made by the State Board of Nurses. Meanwhile, the small number available as nurses adds to our embarrassment. There were 97 students who completed the course, but no postgraduates took training.

X-Ray Department: The extensive activity in this department continues. Since April, 1946, Dr. Robert, the new Director, has been in Philadelphia completing his studies, interrupted by the death of Dr. Sampson. A well qualified substitute was secured during his absence, Dr. Lucien M. Pascucci, who has also been very helpful in the Trudeau School. There were 7,278 examinations, a few more than half of which were for patients in the village and elsewhere. There were 1,124 fluoroscopic examinations. Instruction was given to 42 students of x-ray photofluorography from the Saranac Lake Study and Craft Guild.

Memorials to D. Ogden Mills — The Reid House and the Mills Cottage

Interpretation of a large number (9,924) of films from outside has also been done, among which were 8,480 industrial examinations and 576 photofluorographic films of Saranac Lake's x-ray survey of employed persons. X-ray treatment was given to 251 cases which were referred for various diseases and complications. We were unable to give deep x-ray treatment where required because it is beyond the capacity of our present apparatus, which is out of date. The General Hospital will soon be equipped with the high-power x-ray recently presented by a generous friend.

Lawrason Brown Memorial Medical Library: Miss Smith, the Librarian, reports a busy year in the use of the library, which now contains 6,966 volumes and a total of 31 medical journals on file. Many donations of journals, etc., are received and exchanged. Miss Smith is always pleased to look up literature on any subject.

Mellon Library: The present Librarian, Mrs. Edna B. Sprague, with the part time assistance of Miss Barbara Lewis, has accomplished the much needed weeding out of old books and stacks of journals sold for paper scrap. The duplicates from the overcrowded shelves have been transferred to the Infirmary and Rest Cottages or sold and new books purchased with the proceeds. The circulation was increased materially and reached 1,500 during the summer and was 11,365 for the year. There were 473 additions to the library. For the rental list $286.00 was collected and $254.60 spent for new books. We are indebted to Miss Mary O'Meara and Miss Theresa Sheehan for binding dozens of books; also to Miss Eleanor Mellon for money for repairs to the building. Many donations of books and journals have been gratefully received.

The Chapel: The Roman Catholic services were conducted as usual by the Msgr. C. A. Kitts and his associates, Fathers O'Connor and Wiley besides the Franciscan Friars Fathers Gabriel and Anselm. Episcopal services were held by the Rev. E. B. Mounsey and other clergymen were Lutheran Missionaries Rev. Henry Ebelke and Rev. Herman Engelken. Services and Christmas Eve Carols were given by Rev. A. B. Gurley. Pastoral services were given by all the clergymen. A funeral service was held for Dr. Heise, and the wedding of Miss Jane C. Billings of Saranac Lake and Mr. George W. Webb of Worcester, Mass., took place in the Chapel.

Entertainments: An increase in the features of entertainment has followed the appointment of Miss Millicent Pierce as Director of Rehabilitation and the organization of the Dramatic Club. Several plays were given and lectures and concerts as well. An address was given by Mr. R. A. McConnell of Boston on "The Atom and the Future" and concerts were presented by Riverdale School boys and Miss Rosita Rios and orchestra from the Swiss Chalet. To all who contributed to the events, including Mr. Albert Schulman who arranged a bingo party, we are grateful.

The Workshop: During the year 315 patients and others received instruction in 13 crafts, both in the shop and at bedside in the infirmaries. A considerable turnover in the instructor personnel occurred — Miss Marjorie Claster, Mrs. Ruth Goodwin, Miss Nancy Newman, Mrs. Betty Andrus, Miss Lucille Kugler, Mrs. Rose Dest and Miss Whilmeia Dimond in succession. Mrs. Gaubis and Mrs. Cronin also gave service as instructors in pottery. Mr. diBona continues as consultant in craft projects. Five photographic exhibits were held, besides participation in the Adirondack Handcraft Exhibit in Saranac Lake.

Many gifts of materials have been received, in addition to the continuing support given by Mrs. Meredith Hare. To the following our thanks and appreciation are due: Miss Barbara Lewis, Mr. Frank Mahoney, Mr. Marcell, Mrs. Pitt Petri, Mr. Jack Miller, Dr. H. H. Levine, Mrs. Madeline Lindow, and the Messrs. Schulman, Jaeger, Greenspan and Isenberg, through Mr. Cecil Simpson.

Silver craft was the most popular study.

An increasing interest in the Workshop was evident as a result of the Rehabilitation program, and Miss Alma Pierce, the Director, deserves the credit for the valuable results accomplished.

Rehabilitation Department: The first year has already had a good start under Miss Millicent Pierce and the number of patients interviewed and interested is gratifying. Figures do not fully reveal the benefits secured but contacts were made with 653 persons and 150 were counseled. Forty from the Study and Craft Guild were taught by Trudeau teachers. There were 56 patients referred to various agencies and 19 were placed in jobs at the Sanatorium or elsewhere after a tryout of activity consistent with their improvement in health. A program of social participation, reading and music is also a part of treatment as well as occupational therapy in the Workshop, laboratories, offices, etc. Miss Pierce has revived the old "Thursday Evening Club" carried on by patients, which gives a useful outlet for the dramatic, literary and music talent. Motion pictures have been secured quite regularly. Many contributions were made by our patients, who gave their talent, services, and money as well.

Altogether the results have been very beneficial and the cooperation with the Guild of great mutual advantage.

The Trudeau School of Tuberculosis: The 32nd session was attended by 30 students, the largest number ever accepted for the course. There were 25 other applicants refused for lack of room. Scholarships were held by 20 students from the following sources: Canadian Tuberculosis Association, one; New York State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, one; Lynn County (Mass.) Tuberculosis League, one; The Queensboro Tuberculosis Association, two; Rhode Island State Tuberculosis Association, one; Wisconsin Antituberculosis Association, two; Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Association, three and the National Tuberculosis Association, three. Six were provided by the Trudeau School. The Veterans Administration sent four medical officers for training, and three students who were formerly in the armed services. Fifteen also took the course at Bellevue Hospital under Dr. J. Burns Amberson but several others who wished to do so were deterred by lack of housing facilities in New York.

The class contributed $54.00 for a lectureship in the 1947 session.

Continued support of the School by the Lillia Babbitt Hyde Foundation was made possible through the Director, Mr. Charles C. Harris, to whom we owe our thanks.

Trudeau Foundation: The Saranac Laboratory, Trudeau Research Laboratory and the Physiological Laboratory: The continued extension of industrial investigations of health hazards has required more field surveys and laboratory experiments. Dr. Gardner had little time for publication of results, which have important bearing on dangers from various dusts and gases in causing diseases of the lungs and their relation to tuberculosis.

Further contributions have been made for the enlargement of the Saranac Laboratory, to be constructed when conditions are more favorable. The staff of physicians and technicians now numbers 43.

The surveys have brought out the need for tests of breathing capacity and thus required the cooperation of the Physiological Laboratory, greatly increasing the work of Dr. Wright's staff. More physicians and technicians have been added to carry on the studies, which include the effect of surgical operations on breathing capacity.

In the Trudeau Research and Clinical Laboratory Mr. Steenken has been engaged in animal experiments on streptomycin with quite favorable results. Other chemotherapeutic preparations are being tried. Stock cultures are being maintained for distribution to other research laboratories, as arranged with the National Tuberculosis Association.

Although Dr. Gardner* had much travelling to do he has had the able assistance of Mr. Manfred Bowditch.

EDWARD R. BALDWIN, M.D., Chairman

*NOTE: Doctor Gardner died suddenly on October 24 of a heart attack. Although this came after the close of the fiscal year, it is included in this report owing to its great importance. His death comes as a shock and deprives us of another important leader in our organization.

Dr. Baldwin's death occurred in May, 1947, just before this report went to press, and is noted here because of the long time which will elapse before the 1947 report will be published.
